Contact prediction collapses once the sequence is masked natural 200-mers, contacts scored against ESMFold; the null is an all-mask input, which holds no sequence information